Family Law Associate with Boutique Family Law Firm (SF and/or Berkeley)

Full-time associate position open for the right candidate in boutique family law firm. We are interested in candidates who possess the right mix of skills and personality to add to the practice. Successful candidates will show attention to detail in their application, so please only respond if you have read the requirements and can express why you are a good fit. We absolutely require one year of family law experience, in California (but are open to applicable law school experience as well, for the right candidate). If for some reason you apply but don't have family law experience, you would need to make a very compelling argument for why you should be considered and would be required to catch up to speed prior to starting.

compensation: DOE with benefits

In your submission, please include a pdf of your resume, and please include contact details in your pdf including the city you reside in. Please omit a cover letter, and instead include a few details about yourself that make you unique and show your personality in the text of your email. We want to know whether you have law office experience, and why family law is of interest to you. If you want to add a photo, please include both a casual and a professional photo. Please include your salary requirements, as well as a unique skill and a flaw you're working to improve.

Please note that training for this position will take place in Berkeley, and that the right fit for the position will be flexible, quick, efficient, proactive, and a truly dynamic team player.

- Principals only. Recruiters, please don't contact this job poster.
- do NOT contact us with unsolicited services or offers
